POSTER OF THE YEAR BY TONY DITERLIZZI

Anthony R. Howard has been an industry-recognized consultant, technology expert, and writer for the US Department of Defense and premier global technology firms such as Google for over 12 years. Howard has written electrifying suspense/action/thrillers based on his time behind the scenes with the Department of Defense. Howard exposes next-generation (and until recently, deeply-classified) technology, weaponry and agencies. His acclaimed spy series The Invisible Enemy reveals the secret that will bring America to its knees. Presently, Howard is a leading consultant for one of the world's largest IT firms where he was rated #1 IT Super Hero by InfoWorld and ComputerWorld, earned the National Federal Office Systems Award (FOSE - Nation's Largest Government IT Exposition), and is the winner of Government Computer News Best New Technology Award. Howard has also earned several literary awards including Global E-book Finalist, and has been cited in over 100 technology articles and whitepapers.
